BEST ACTRESS OF THE YEAR—Olivia de Havilland according to National Board of Review of Motion Pictures. She was rated on her performance in the picture "Snake Pit".—S.N.S. photo.

D.P. FAMILIES RE-UNITED—Rev. Gordon Smythe, of Hamilton, Ont., shows new Canadians who celebrated their first Christmas in five years how to carve turkey. Family are Marie Ayoub, his wife and son Gerald. Mother and son arrived recently from Latvia just in time to celebrate Christmas.—S.N.S. photo.

SHOOTS WOLF—Ted Wright of Waterloo, Ont., holds the hide of a wolf he shot in his farmyard early in the morning while it feasted on the carcass of a pig. Animal measured 3 feet 8 1/2 inches, and is one of a pack that had been roaming Waterloo vicinity. Ted shot the wolf with a .22 rifle.—S.N.S. photo.

FOLLOWING TRAIL THAT MIGHT LEAD TO A SKATING CAREER—Many young Canadians are following the trail that leads to bright lights and flurry of excitement and a skating career. At left Shirley Zutter, 16-year-old Kitchener, Ont., girl, has been offered a place in U.S. "Ice-rinkers" show. She is a niece of Bill Richmond, hockey star with the Boston Bruins. At right Gertrude Graf, 14, of Waterloo, Ont., has accepted an offer from the "Ice-rinkers" and joined the show in January. Both girls are members of the Kitchener-Waterloo Granite club.—S.N.S. photo.

HALIFAX OFFERS HEART TO 550 REFUGEES—A few days before Christmas a little misadventure. The Walnut, tied up at the wharf at Halifax, N.S., nearly 500 men, women and children who had left their Russian-dominated countries poured out of the little ship and presented themselves to immigration officials. Halifax Mayor J. E. Ahear, heard about the group. So he spoke to officers of the Halifax Press club. Within a few hours the men and women of the Press club were planning a Christmas party for the 70 children who were aboard the misadventure. Immigration officials are "processing" the group of refugees but the intention is that they will be allowed to remain in Canada. Above are a group of children who attended the Christmas party.—S.N.S. photo.

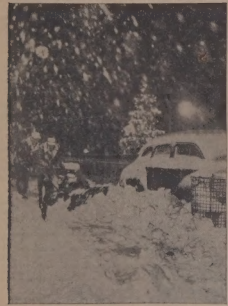

IN "PALOOSED HOUSE" FED VIA MAIL SLIDE—Slipping chocolate bars and wafers through the door of a house in Vancouver paddled by police while Aldino Panti, 46, was inside, in Dan Mitchell. Part of the house was locked by police under the anti-booling "paddock law" and Panti, seen through the door, refused to leave. Mitchell, the owner, used the other half of the house.

SHE CAUGHT THE FIRST BOAT—Ted Lambhart of Toronto met Marion Mansfield of Plymouth, Eng., in Plymouth in 1942, where she was serving as a secretary in the W.R.N.S. Ted, an officer with the R.C.N.V.R., was on leave from his ship, the Carquest. When the two last saw each other in 1944, they were mutually engaged, but the correspondence which followed was sporadic, to say the least. Finally, Ted decided to put in a transatlantic telephone call to find out where he stood. Result? Marian caught the next boat. They are to be married soon.—S.N.S. photo.

BEHIND THE WHITE CURTAIN—The skydivers of New York were definitely not a part of the city's scenery after nightfall here, as the recent heavy snow completely obscured them while piling up work for snow plowers and shovellers. Here are a pair of snow plowers clearing sidewalks on Park Ave. as the clock on Grand Central building piers down at them with a ghostly radiance.—S.N.S. photo.

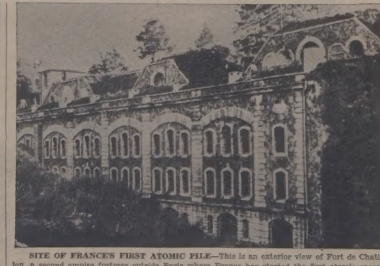

MOONKEYMAN WALTZ AT THE STORK—These schismatic dancers are Louisa B. Meyer, boss of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Motion Pictures, and his bride, the former Louisa Baskin. They were photographed as they cut a conservative waltz at the Stork club in New York. They were wed at Yuma, Arizona, recently.

HOPE KIRITZES WITH ALLEN BARKLEY—Bob Hope couldn't resist the temptation to horse around a bit as he swaled takeoff with Vice-president-elect, Allen Barkley for Berlin. At Washington National airport Hope and Mr. Barkley as a "straight man" to demonstrate a "drinking can" he took with him. Hope also put on a show for services of the Berlin staff.

SOCIETY BIDS AT THE DEBUTANTE COTILLON—The scene is the grand ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria, where the debutante cotillion and ball at which 227 New York society bids made their debut. The affair was conducted in a Yuletide setting with the debutantes dressed in white or silver gowns.—S.N.S. photo.

SITE OF FRANCE'S FIRST ATOMIC FILE—This is an exterior view of Fort de Châtillon, a second empire fortress outside Paris where France has started the first atomic energy pile known outside the U.S.-British-Canadian combine. Announcement of the pile was made by President Joliot-Curie, French high commissioner for atomic energy, who also announced discovery of a sizeable uranium deposit in the mountains of the Aveyron, near the medieval city of Rodez.—S.N.S. photo.

from everything Christianity has given us, or stand up and make it the big idea behind democracy
—make Christianity the ideology of democracy.

Strangely, although we in Canada are in the midst of a struggle that has engulfed half the world, we have no strategy for this battle. The battle of ideologies is won in the mind of the individual. Every Canadian must decide whether he or she is for or against Christian democracy. Every component of our Canadian society must decide where its stand is to be made. Men trained in the fields of warfare are needed desperately to co-ordinate the components of Canadian life, such as education, labor, finance, government—in this battle line.

Our future will depend on the progress made in training every citizen in this new type of warfare.
